Spectacular, vibrant colors cover the walls, the bodies, the hair, the ladder, and the floor. Who would imagine that this scene began with a pure white background, spotless relaxing attire, clean, unused paint brushes, and brimming, unopened paint cans? These adventurous students have created such a colorful expression of their wild side. Jonathan Richter, one of the Whitman-Hanson Band drum majors, conducts the band members with gusto. His powers of concentration are certainly impressive.

Indelible impressions will incredibly impact the seniors for a lustrous and luminous lifetime.

FOOTBALL and CHEERLEADING

Below: The Panther Defense huddles to discuss their plans on how to stop the powerful Duxbury Offense. The October 6th game turned into a monumental victory for W-H, 38-27.

The Whitman-Hanson Football Team accomplished what many teams would consider extremely difficult. To jump from a state ranking of football teams in the 40's, to roughly 4th is a great achievement.

These Panthers showed no mercy throughout the whole season. The size of the players on the team completely suprised their opponents. Although not physically intimidating, the agility and the skill of the team members were major assets in their continued success.

The game versus the "Unstoppable" Marshfield Rams was one of the biggest upsets in the minds of the reporters, but the Panthers knew they could pull it off with their 9-7 victory within the last minutes of the fourth quarter.

This year the Panthers traveled to U-Mass Dartmouth to compete against Norwood High on Super Bowl Saturday. It has not been since 1994 that the Panthers have been on this road. The Panthers captured their 15th A.C.L championship in 19 years.

"The senior class possessed a resolve that would not allow them to be the first carried them past their individual abilities. Collectively, they led a team that

The Seniors of the 2001 Cheerleading Squad have shown four strong years of loving support of their fellow Panther football players. Through the thick and thin, these cheerleaders demostrate great enthusiasm and cooperation before and during each and every game. In addition, they have continued the tradition of treating their "secret pal" senior football players to baskets of goodies and special treats before each game.

This past summer, five senior girls went to a cheerleading camp at Mass. Maritime Academy. These five girls, Lisa Berry, Linda Brown, Barbara Cichocki, Lori Coburn, and Jill Hayes, were all chosen to travel to London to march in the New Year's Day Parade. Although all five of these Senior Cheerleaders were invited to London, only Linda Brown and Lisa Berry will travel there.

This year's girls won their 4th consecutive A.C.L. Championship, which is based on their half-time routine presented at both away and home games.

BOYS & GIRLS SOCCER

Below: Senior, Adam Crosscup, controls the ball with no pressure in sight.

The Boys Varsity Soccer Team had a very competitive season in 2000. Although their record did not show it, the boys played a hard fought season under the leadership of Coach James Barrington and the Captains, Brian Cassidy, Adam Crosscup, and Ryan Perry.

The team had a strong defense, anchored by senior ACL All Star Brian Cassidy. The high points in the season came when the Panthers twice tied the strong Plymouth North Eagles and twice beat Randolph. The boys also won the prestigious ACL Sportsmanship Award.

The Boys Soccer Team is losing six seniors this year, but Coach Barrington is ready for another hard fought season next year. The Panthers are excited and ready for the 2001 season, as both Marshfield and Duxbury are leaving the ACL. With six returning seniors, next season is looking promising.

By always showing great intensity and determination, the Boys Varsity Soccer Team always put up a great fight on the field. The team really pulled together and had a lot of fun, both on and off the field.

"I'm very happy with the boys effort this season and for the most part we were very competitive. I am also very proud that we won the sportsmanship award for the first time in Whitman-Hanson history." -Coach James Barrington

The 2000 season was a very succsesful one for the Girls Varsity Soccer Team. With a final record of 9-5-4, the girls qualified for the state tournament and played Barnstable. In one of the most exciting games in Whitman-Hanson Girls Soccer History, the Panthers played all the way through regulation, two overtimes, and finally to a shoot out. The Panthers, unfortunately, did not advance in the tournament, however, they certainly were proud about their stellar performance against a good team.

Led by Coach David Floeck, the Panthers showed that they would never give up in 2000. With nine seniors the Girls Varsity Team was led with veteran leadership, which helped to guide some of the younger players. The girls had a great season in 2000 and hope to excel in 2001 under the eye of Coach Floeck.

"I'm really proud of the team this year; they showed great dedication while showing a lot of commitment and hard work to allow them to reach the tournament for the fifteenth time in Whitman-Hanson history."-Coach David Floeck

BOYS & GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Below: Coach Kevin Black is giving the team one of his well known pre-game speeches.

One of the most memorable Boys Cross Country Seasons was in 2000. The record was 2-4, and the team experienced its first loss since 1993.

Coach Kevin Black and the team will always remember this year, because so many events made this season different from previous ones.

The most serious loss of the season occurred in Whitman-Hanson's first meet against Marshfield. A loss against Marshfield meant W-H would have no way to capture the ACL Championship. The most challenging meet this year was held in Franklin. In a preliminary round to make the state championship, the team was faced with horrible weather conditions, including rain and mud. Although the conditions were bad, the Panthers still placed sixth out of fifteen teams, ironically beating all the teams in the ACL that had previously defeated W-H during the regular season.

Special recognition goes to Borja Garcia, foreign exchange student from Spain, who finished 5th in most of the dual meets. In addition, congratulations goes to Peter Smallcomb (ACL All Star) who went on from Eastern Mass to the state championship and placed fifty-sixth out of over two hundred and fifty runners.

"The 2000 Cross Country season had many new records broken, some positive - others negative, but all together the season was a good experience." - Coach Kevin Black

The 2001 W-H Girls Cross Country Team experienced a positive season. The team finished 5-1, and therefore tied with two other teams on top of the Atlantic Coast League for the second straight year.

Jenni Brooks and Laura Billings, who were league All Stars, along with Stefanie Walsh, provided good leadership to the Girls Cross Country Team. With running the races like champions and showing the underclassmen how to get the job done, the senior girls couldn't have been any better than they were.

The most memorable meet this year was against Dennis-Yarmouth, which ended with a winning score of 27-28. This guaranteed the Panthers the Atlantic Coast League Championship.

After the Girls Cross Country Team already had a great regular season, they went on to the Eastern Mass. qualifying race and placed fifth to go onto the State Championships. At the State Championship, the girls team ran a great race and finished tenth in the State of Massachusetts.

"It was a fantastic start to my coaching career. The girls were great and the season was a success. I hope we have the same luck in the future." - Coach Karen Wagner

VOLLEYBALL & GOLF

Volleyball Captains, Carolyn Cox and Elizabeth Salamone, pose for a shot after a vigorous practice.

Volleyball Coach Elizabeth Noble states, "The team has come a long way, and with two years under our belt, we are ready to step up to whatever challenges may come our way."

The Girls Varsity Volleyball Team finished its 2000 season with a successful record of 7-10. "It was a big adjustment losing 12 seniors, but the team coped extremely well," explains Coach Noble. Teamwork and determination have helped the girls complete an accomplished season.

According to Carolyn Cox, the game that demonstrated the most teamwork was an at home game against Dennis-Yarmouth. "Even though we lost, it was one of the best games we have played 'together'. We put forth a great effort."

To sum up the volleyball season, Senior Melanie Currie states, "This was my first year, and I had a lot of fun."

"This was one of the best seasons ever; we've improved so much."

The game of Golf consists of neither wins nor losses. The Boys Golf Team at Whitman-Hanson is in a very hard and complicated league. Mr. Robert Belden, the Boys Varsity Golf Coach, explains, " Whitman- Hanson is beginning to grow into a 'Golf Community ' and our team is benefitting."

Coach Belden adds, "Participation is increasing tremendously every year, and every year the team is improving." This year's golf team was given the Sportsmanship Award, and Senior Timothy Rollins was specially recognized.

This is the first year that golf is a fall sport for W-H, and Captain, Stephen Lanza, says, "The golf courses were in good shape this season, due to playing at the end of the season rather than at the beginning. This year's team was primarily a senior team; several of us groomed golfers are looking forward to playing on the golf team in college."

"Winning is business, and business is good." - Captain Timothy Rollins

BASKETBALL & CHEERLEADING

Below: Junior, Ryan Armstrong, bends down into an athletic defensive position, as he prepares to make a steal and turn it into another two points for the Panthers.

The Whitman-Hanson Boys Varsity Basketball program has gone through a lot during the last few years; however, many positive changes began during the 2000-2001 season. The Panthers' new coaching staff, headed by Bob Rodgers, has lifted the team to new heights, as the Panthers had one of their best starts ever, starting out 4-0.

One of the high points of the season came when the Panthers knocked off defending ACL champions Dennis-Yarmouth. The only two seniors on the team, Bryan Smith and Joshua Kameese, really stepped it up during the DY game, as Smith dumped in seven three-pointers on his way to 28 points, while Kameese added 11 points and 10 rebounds.

Currently, the Panthers are 6-6 and well on their way to making the tournament for the first time since the '96-'97 season. Next season is looking promising for Bob Rodgers and the Panthers, as three starters will be returning including Junior Captain, Sean Conover. The Panthers, however, are still concentrating on this season and are working hard to clinch a tournament birth.

"This team showed tremendous commitment and dedication all season, therefore living up to our team theme of 'Mean It'. We are confident our team will make that same investment in the offseason in order to make the 2001-2002 season even more memorable." ... Head Coach, Bob Rodgers

The 2000-2001 Varsity Basketball Cheerleading Squad once again demostrated their great determination and enthusiam as they cheered the boys on through good and bad times. Their fine tuned halftime show electrified the crowd at every game, with unbelievable acrobatic maneuvers and difficult stunts.

The girls will be defending ACL champions in this year's competition and will definitely once again be the front-runners to bring yet another banner home. Led by seven seniors, the Panther cheerleaders have the maturity and poise which is needed to enable them to be victorious throughout many more competitions.

The Varsity Squad does a wonderful job of always keeping the crowd in the game by cheering loudly. The players and the fans really appreciate the job that the cheerleaders do and wish the girls a lot of luck in their quest for another ACL championship.

"The bonds we have created with eachother have inspired us to improve our cheerleading skills over the past year." ... Lori Coburn/Stacy Russo, Senior Cheerleaders

"The Varsity Basketball Cheerleaders are working hard to maintain their ACL championship title. They are enjoying the wins from the Boys Varsity Basketball team as they cheer them onto victory. I am also very proud of the girls because they proudly have been awarded Gold Certificates from the M.S.S.P.A. for having a GPA of 3.15." - Head Coach Katherine Getchell

GIRLS BASKETBALL & WRESTLING

Girls Basketball Captains: Carolyn Cox, Cortney Kelly, Elizabeth Hassan.

The Whitman-Hanson Girls Varsity Basketball Team finished its 19th season in a row with a winning record to qualify for the state tournament. Coach James Daley has always encouraged his team to, "Always give 100% because you never know when 99% just won't be enough." The W-H team has followed their coach's words and had a most interesting season.

The most outstanding game of the season was the second game against Dennis-Yarmouth. In the first game against D-Y, W-H lost by a slim two points on the D-Y court. In the second game, here on W-H's home court, the W-H girls excelled, made all the right moves, played as a team and beat D-Y by 30 points.

With a near end of the season record of 9-7, the W-H girls qualify for the state tournament, finishing 2nd in the ACL. Seniors on the team, Carolyn Cox, Cortney Kelly, and Elizabeth Hassan made outstanding contributions to the year's challenges. Carly Muise "is an inspiration to the team," says Coach Daley. She began as a manager, worked hard at the beginning of the season, and when there was an opening, she took over a varsity spot on the team.

"The seniors did a great job, worked hard, and led the way."
- Mr. James Daley, Coach Girls Varsity Basketball

The W-H Varsity Wrestling Season had some very positive moments. The Panthers gave top-ranked Weymouth its only loss of the dual-meet season. With a demanding number of 21 meets, the Panthers ended the season with a 15-6 record and a 2nd place finish at the very competitive W-H Invitational Tournament.

Outstanding wrestlers for the season included Captain, Brian Cassidy, who finished 21-0 and won the W-H Tournament and Captain Nathan Dineen, who won his 100th career match on his way to an undefeated season. Juniors, Ben Dineen and Mike Jones, were also tournament champions and were undefeated in dual meet competition with records of 18-0 and 16-0. Captain, Nathan Dineen, raised his career record to 112-19 which is second best in school history. By the end of the season, he hopes to break the all-time school record of 123.

The team lost five of its six meets by only one match, including two exciting losses to league rivals Marshfield and Duxbury. The Marshfield and Duxbury Meets both came down to the wire with the Panthers slightly short in the end. A rigorous practice schedule and senior leadership inspired the wrestlers' confidence going into tournament play. In addition, Coaches Gay, Armstrong, and Kain provided the guidance, instruction, and encouragement to the hard working and dedicated student-athletes of the Wrestling team. The team took 2nd Place finish in the Division II South Sectionals and 5th Place finish in the Division II State Tournament.

Below: Robert Gay, Coach, gives the team some last minute words of advice.

"W-H Wrestling had its 8th State Champion in the history of the school as Nathan Dineen won the 171 lbs. weight class at States. Captains Dineen and Brian Cassidy provided excellent leadership for the many underclassmen returning next year." - Mr. Robert Gay, Varsity Wrestling Coach

BOYS & GIRLS WINTER TRACK

After a season of 6 meets, including 4 league meets which are comprised of about 10 events and 2 non-league relay meets, the W-H Boys Winter Track Team won the ACL Championship.

In the first two meets of the season, W-H held Marshfield and Duxbury to single digit scores. The most challenging league meet was against D-Y in which W-H tied the formidable D-Y team 43-43. In the second relay meet, the Class B Relay Meet, the team set 4 new records, including the distance medley, the 4x200, the sprint medley, and the shot put medley. In this same relay meet, the W-H Team scored 24 points vs. 20 other teams, placing W-H fifth in the competition.

Ryan Hammond now owns the school record in the indoor mile and the 1000 meter race. Andrew Bethoney successfully won all sprinting races in the ACL. The W-H Boys Winter Track Team had a great season and will always remember their hard work, dedication, and especially when they practiced in torrential downpours before the D-Y meet.

"I'm very proud of the W-H Boys Track Team; they worked hard all season and brought home another championship."

The Girls Winter Track Team surpassed all expectations this season through the good and the bad. The good of the season was a final record of 4-1; the bad of the season was that many of the team's best runners, including Jenni Brooks, Lindsay Kelliher, Lorna Migre, and Bridget Black, were out with illnesses and injuries for a good part of the season.

Each and every girl knew that she had to step up and work harder in order to replace the injured athletes...and that's just what each girl did. The girls had first place finishers, Kim Sears, Kristen McGonagle, and Jen Howard in the high jump, in the McIntyre Relays and in the Class B Relays. They all also joined up with Teri Bonatti and Rose Billings to get a first place finish in the State Track Coaches Association Team Pentathlon at the Reggie Lewis Center on January 13, 2001. Individually, Kim Sears set a school record in the long jump with a leap of 16-1; Rose Billings, who subbed for her sister Laura Billings because Laura was down with the flu, took 14 seconds off her personal best time in the 800.

Melissa Ford was awarded the Scholar Athlete award. W-H claimed several ACL Star awards. As a team, the girls finished second in the Pilgrim Conference League. Michael Driscoll, Coach, says of the team, "We exceeded all expectations."

"The girls did not let their fears get in the way of their dreams."

On December 2, 2000, The Whitman-Hanson Panther Football Team, which was ranked #3 in the state, played against the #1 team, the Norwood Mustangs, in the Division 2 Superbowl. Not only was this game the biggest Division 2 game, it was also the game to determine which team would be #1 in Eastern Massachusetts.

The Panthers led 6-0 less than a minute into the game, due to a 74 yard run by James Rego off the second play from the line of scrimmage. By the halftime whistle, Norwood was leading 14-12.

At the halftime show, the Whitman-Hanson majorettes juggled flaming batons, while the Norwood majorettes tossed rifles and swords in the air.

During the third and fourth quarters, the Panthers tried to stay with the Norwood team, but the Mustangs kept pouring it on and defeated the Panthers by a score of 42-18.

The Whitman-Hanson Panthers had everything going right for them entering the 2001 season. Having lost only a few seniors from last year, the leading scorer on the team returning, staying strong at a solid goalie position, and coming off of a state tournament season last year, the Panthers looked to capture the Atlantic Coast League Crown for the 2000-2001 season.

This year's team faced a tough schedule, playing Division 1, 2, and 3 Teams. W-H's team consists of 4 seniors, 6 juniors, 5 sophomores, and 1 freshman, and therefore has played together and is experienced in the style of hockey taught by Coach Chris Googins. In addition, the discovery of Joshua Robertson, a stellar sophomore, transferred here from Catholic Memorial, increased the power of the team. Robertson leads the team in scoring and is a huge factor on the Panther attack along with Senior Captain, Steven Cappellini. Cappellini is very close behind Robertson, and both are in the top ten in the Eastern MA for points. This 1-2 combo isn't the "everything" going for the team.

The W-H defense, including goalie Justin Randall, have stopped some of the best teams in the league. With four games left in the season, W-H stands 12-1-3 and is currently in second place in the ACL.

"The 2000-2001 Hockey Team completed a very successful regular season record, going 16-1-3 and finishing in second place in the Atlantic Coast League. All season, various players stepped up and took leadershp roles."
-Hockey Coach, Mr. Chris Googins

Andrew Bethoney, Joanna Clarke, and Jake Williams gather around the warm glow of the computer screen. They are using the new wave of technology called email. Maybe they might be able to read their mail if they don't do something to crash the computer.

student life...academics/ clubs & activities

Radio Club - broadcasting important information via the school intercom is nerve-wracking and demanding. These students seem to have the nerve-wracking part down perfectly; looks like Joshua Kameese even has time to play while he works.

"Broken" - This self-potrait was painted by Kathryn Hopkins. "This picture is basically drawn from memory. It is intended to depict the emotion of sadness through the girl's expression and other objects in the painting. The colors surrounding her are dark, to be parallel to what she is feeling inside."

Who said work cannot be fun? Bridget Black looks just as happy reading and being in class than being outside and hanging out with friends.

Junior, Patrick Casey, works thoughtfully on his English timeline. Nothing like a good trip to the past and the future.

Its educational excellence and awesome activities earn it a reputation of overwhelming opportunities.

Stephanie Boyden looks like she is having fun. She is working for the gourmet gallery, which is run by the Food Service Class, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Carson. Know how to get invited?

KRISTEN McGONAGLE

Below: The Business Department is proud to recognize Kristen McGonagle as their outstanding student. Kristen is a dedicated assistant to the Mass Football Prospects program. She helped raise over $20,000 for Shriners Hospital. Kristen was also co-designer of WH's Penny Day web site, and assisted in maintaining the Mass State Track coaches Assistance web site. Kristen works tirelessly for the Business Department. There hasn't been a time when she was asked to do something and didn't do it willingly and with great quality. We can count on her for almost anything. Kristen McGonagle is a role model for her peers. Her commitment to excellence in all tasks - - academics, sports and community service is exemplary.

The Citizen Scholarship Foundation (CSF) is a group of adults that raise scholarship money for W-H graduating seniors. About fifty to sixty thousand dollars is raised each year from donations. The Citizens Scholarship Foundation Club is made up of students who participate in fund raisers, such as selling catalogs and lollipops. The students who do the most work and most fundraising over their four years of high school earn the most scholarship money.

Retiring Teachers ...

An interview with Mr. William Twohig

Mr. William Twohig
Army Basic Training
Fort Gordon, Georgia

"He is a man who has demonstrated integrity and compassion in all phases of his life. He has done a tremendous job in the Latin Program, making it a successful program at W-H; he has been involved in town government as an Assessor for the Town of Kingston for many years; he is a devoted, loving family man. He exemplifies the true spirit of a man who has made a success of his life." Edward Valla, Chairman Language Arts Department

Perhaps more than in other classrooms, there's a feeling of awe in Room 51, the classroom of Magister Twohig. Perhaps it's out of respect for the ancient language of Latin, or for the history involved in the language. Or, perhaps it is out of respect for Mr. Twohig himself, who has diligently taught Latin to hundreds of students over his 29 years at Whitman-Hanson.

Mr. Twohig did not begin at Whitman-Hanson, however. He attended college at Iona College in New York, where he majored in the Classics. He also attended graduate school, spending one year at Harvard. He began his teaching career in New York City, where he taught for six years before coming to Whitman-Hanson. Mr. Twohig's Latin Class has become almost legendary, as his students will always remember close games of Periculum and Caesar Mandat (the Latin versions of Jeopardy! and Simon Says, respectively). Other teaching assistants, such as stories of the Mythical Monk and Praemia (rewards for good marks) have made studying Latin a very enjoyable task for Latin scholars.

Mr. Twohig has thoroughly enjoyed his years at Whitman-Hanson, but is looking forward to his retirement when he can "practice doing nothing." He also plans to travel and would especially like to go to sites in Italy such as Pompeii. And, in case anyone was wondering, Mr. Twohig plans on keeping that same briefcase he's been carrying around for the last twenty years. Certainly, the memory of Magister will live on in Mr. Twohig's students. And although he may be gone, the "Latina lingua vivit" in Room 51.

"Edward Valla goes about his work with cheerful willingness. No job is too menial for him to undertake. He really leads rather than commands." Mr. Jerome Chaskes, Colleague, Language Arts Department

Mr. Edward Valla

Mr. Edward Valla, Chairman of the Language Arts Department for the last eight years, is committing himself to pursuing a nursery business selling unusual plants and trees, after he retires this year. Mr. Valla says that he has never had regrets about being a teacher, for he believes that teaching is a profession "that keeps you young."

Some parting words from Mr. Valla to the students at Whitman-Hanson are, "to try to appreciate what they have, and to realize that what they have in school provides students with everything they need if they are willing to work; if they don't achieve their goals, it isn't Whitman-Hanson's fault, it is their own."

Mr. Valla began his career as a Civil Engineering Major at Franklin Institute of Technology. After deciding that designing wasn't his calling, he pursued a Bachelor's Degree in Education and eventually a Master's Degree in Education from Cambridge College. Mr. Valla says that he found "his place" here at Whitman-Hanson. He has taught Basic to Advanced Placement English and Woodshop at W-H to all grades. Mr. Valla says that he will miss the special relationship between his students and him and their different personalities when he leaves. Looking back, one of Mr. Valla's most memorable times at W-H came recently when he was selected as an honorary member of the National Honor Society this winter.

When not interacting with the students at W-H, Mr. Valla in the past was on a men's softball team and most of all enjoys woodworking. His woodworking shop, probably larger than his home itself, equipped with the latest in tools, machinery, and other woodworking "toys" is where he sequesters himself and produces the original pieces of furniture and, of course, those hand-carved ducks for which he is so well known ... and which only the talented Mr. Edward Valla could create.

This chatty group of seniors knows that Senior Year at Whitman-Hanson is going to be full of memories to talk about for years to come.

Carrie Greene , Kung Fu Master, displays her individual spirit on the playing fields of Whitman-Hanson.

The Senior Class Advisors, Mr. Daniel Moriarty and Mr. John Rozen, keep the Senior Class Members in line. It's clear who is in charge, because it looks like Mr. Rozen crossed Mr. Moriarty's path and is about to be thrown off the roof.

For Maria Lincoln's 16th birthday, her friends threw her a surprise party complete with a Justin Timberlake cake. When they made her kiss her cake, Lindsey Nash took advantage of the opportunity and pushed her face into the colorful dessert.

Robert Kanelopoulos, Brian McLaughlin, Michael DeLorey, James Rego, and Adam Crosscup all take a break from dancing the night away to pose for the camera.

In 7th grade, Erin Biggins, Lori Coburn, Gabrielle Lozeau, Deanna Briscoe, and Maria Lincoln dressed up as trash on Halloween.

Four years ago, we stepped into high school. We opened our lockers for the first time, looked at our schedules, and thought about how great it was to finally be in high school. Three years ago, we stepped into school believing that we owned the place. No longer the lowly freshmen, we had a new attitude. Two years ago, we became upperclassmen. We began to realize that we were growing up; we got our licenses and started talking about college. We had our junior prom, got our rings, and realized that time really does fly. One year ago, we entered the school as seniors. Everything we did was the "last": our last pep rally, our last season in a sport, our last birthday at home. Now, we realize that time has somehow slipped away, but the memories will forever remain with us. Soon we will be saying goodbye. Graduation will come soon enough; it will be the last time we will all be together and recognized as the Class of 2001.

Erica Sutherland took her friend, Jennifer Gerry, to the Hard Rock Cafe in Boston to celebrate Jennifer's 16th birthday; there they met Leo the Lion.

Stefanie Walsh, Joyce Ellis, and Barbara Cichocki tried to capture on film all of the good times they had over the summer; look at this photo opportunity taken inside Bickford's bathroom at 3 a.m.

Patricia O'Donnell, Stephanie Boyden, Theresa Bonatti, Jennifer Walsh, Kaitlin Donovan, and Mary Powers participate in the 2nd annual Amy's Day Walk, September 10, 2000.

Gabrielle Lozeau, Elizabeth Ainslie, Pamela Olsen, Keri Calnan, and Lori Coburn get messy at the freshman lock-in.

Forget the present; forget the future; their favorite memories belong to the past.

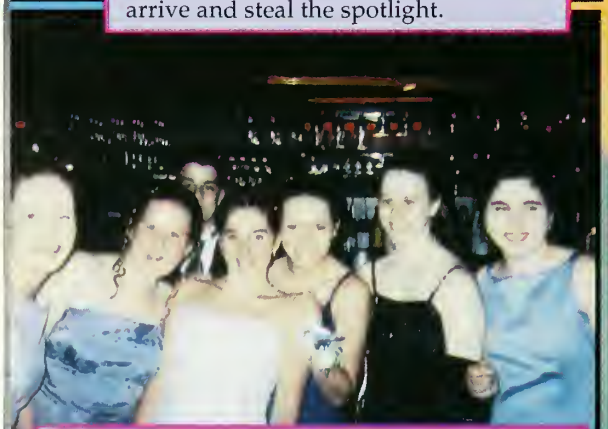
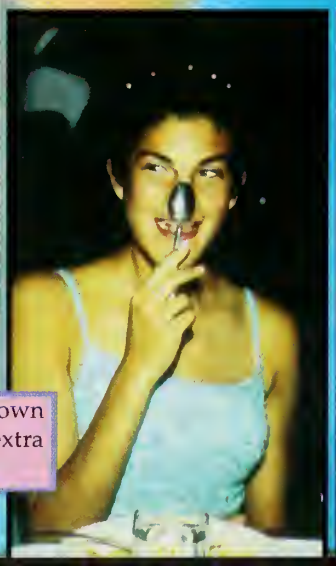
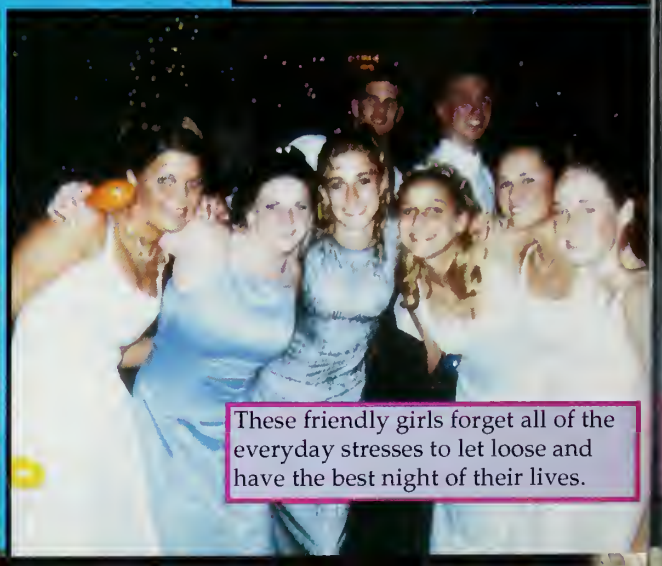
Best friends, Maria Lincoln and Mark Gredler reminisce about the 8th grade rec.



Kathleen McAvoy, Suzanne McKay, Melissa Demichele, Alicia Kulikowski, Erica Sutherland, and Margaret Lane stand at the bar hoping to be slipped a free drink in return for looking so great.



Elizabeth Hassan discovers her own way to make use of all those extra spoons at the dinner table.



These friendly girls forget all of the everyday stresses to let loose and have the best night of their lives.

Ashley Hatfield, Kendra Earl, and Kelly Molloy show that friends are just as important as dates on prom night.

These studly guys take time out from fighting off the ladies to strike a pose for the camera.

The Junior Prom, a magical night looked forward to by the Juniors, was certainly "Something to Talk About." Stacy Russo's break dancing, Class President Steve Lanza's reading of the Junior Superlatives, and the maraca lines were the highlights of the evening. Although the weather was less than magical, rainy and gloomy, in fact, the night was brightened by the spectacular lighting of the disco ball. Decorated with a multitude of sparkling white lights and hurricane lamp centerpieces, the atmosphere of the Canoe Club was something the Juniors will never forget.

herri Hannan, Kelly Robinson, and ennifer Demichele show that all their reparation for the prom was worth it.

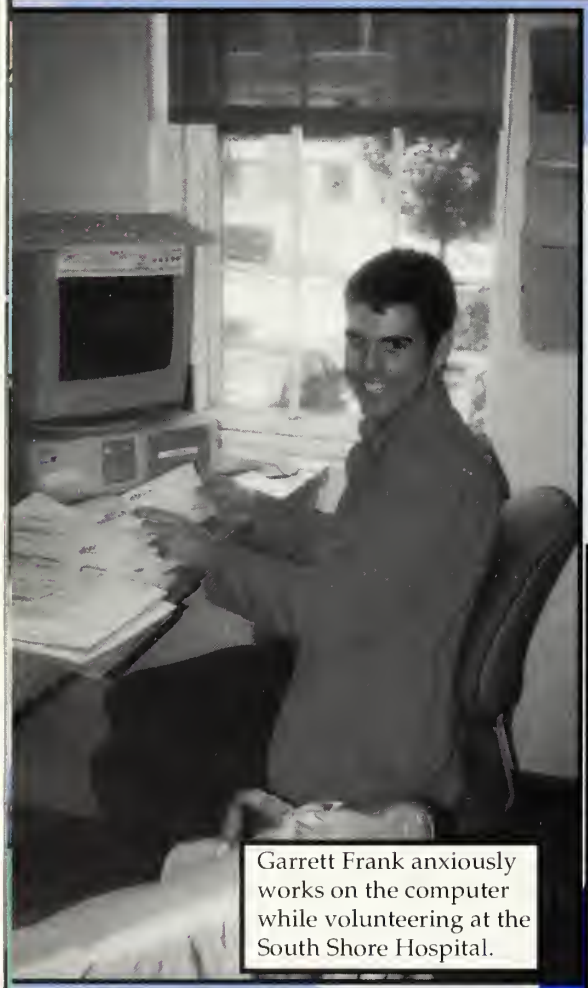
Danielle Jerome, in her Marylou's uniform, pauses to show that anyone CAN mix work and fun.

Michelle Skidmore, Matthew MacDonald, Amy Edwards, and Shannon Lewis come together, each from a different department, to take a photo at Sears in the Hanover Mall.

Who ever said all work and no play? Obviously, he has never been to Whitman-Hanson. Some of the seniors have fancy cars ... some of them have cell phones and beepers ... some of them spend $5 dollars a day on lunch alone, and the variety of goodies at DECA doesn't help either. But the seniors at Whitman-Hanson know that money doesn't grow on trees. So, they're out there, making money ... and spending it! All the while, having fun.



Garrett Frank anxiously works on the computer while volunteering at the South Shore Hospital.

Kelly Robinson, Rachael Lewis, and Melissa Demichele play in the children's department during their after school shift at JC Penny in the Hanover Mall.

Robert Dunham and Kelly Molloy stand arm in arm at Wendy's in Whitman, with just one question on their mind...Would you like fries with that?

jobs

What do we want? Money!
How we gonna get it? Work!

Scott Gerraughty and Pamela Kreckler are ecstatic to have the privilege of working at Shaws in Hanson.

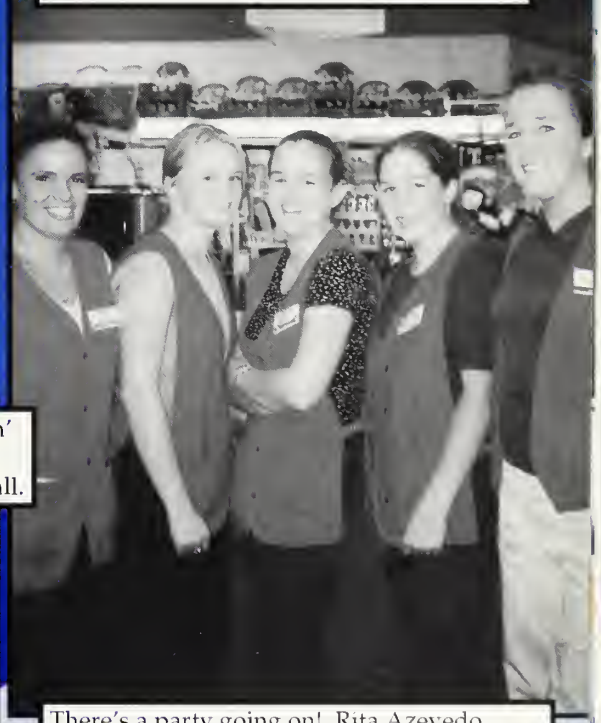
Surprise! Elizabeth Salamone is shocked as we capture her taking pictures on the job at Starland. Don't worry Liz, we won't tell...

Lauren Stock shows enthusiasm as fellow student and friend, Holly Setterland, visits her while working at KB Toys in the Hanover Mall.

Money, Money, Money , Money...

MONEY!

Whitman-Hanson students are as responsible outside of school, as they are on the inside.



There's a party going on! Rita Azevedo, Nicole Racicot, Lauren Oberg, Jennifer Gerry, and Christine Haley show just how much fun working at CVS in Whitman can be.

What do we want? Change!
When do we want to change? Now!

Christopher Raftery and Mark Gredler sure seem to have changed, but their taste in clothing has not.

Lisa Chalmers and Laura Rideout smile for pre-prom pictures and think back to the days of Saturday morning cartoons and teddy bears.

Elizabeth Hassan and Jeanette Doherty have grown up from couch potatoes to beauty queens.

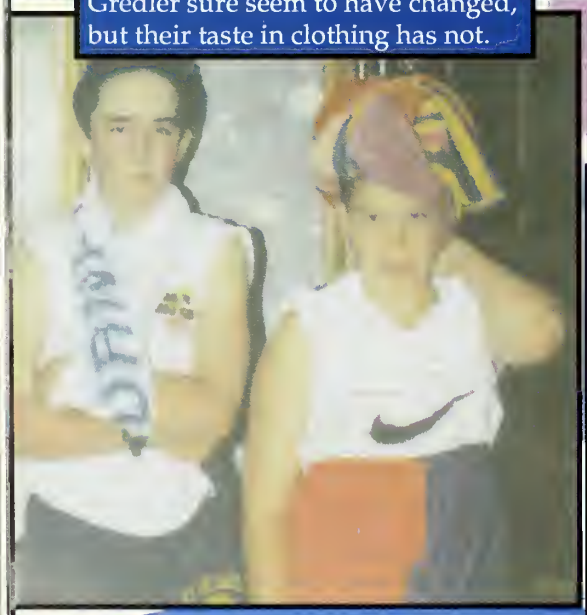
Remember the past; treasure the present. Changes symbolize growth from childhood to adulthood.

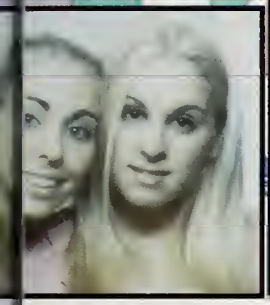
Dressed up for Hawaiian day in 4th grade, Deanna Briscoe and Maria Lincoln have still remained good friends.



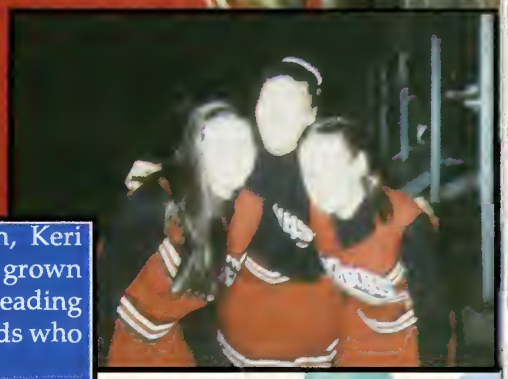
It's been a long time since dance class, but Pamela Olsen and Stacy Russo remain friends.

arolyn Manganello nd Jennifer Hager sure eem happy now that ey're blondes.

Michelle Skidmore and Christina Nelson have changed a lot since the days of kindergarten and saddle shoes.



Even though Linda Brown, Keri Calnan, and Lisa Berry have grown a lot since their early cheerleading days, they still remain friends who love to cheer.



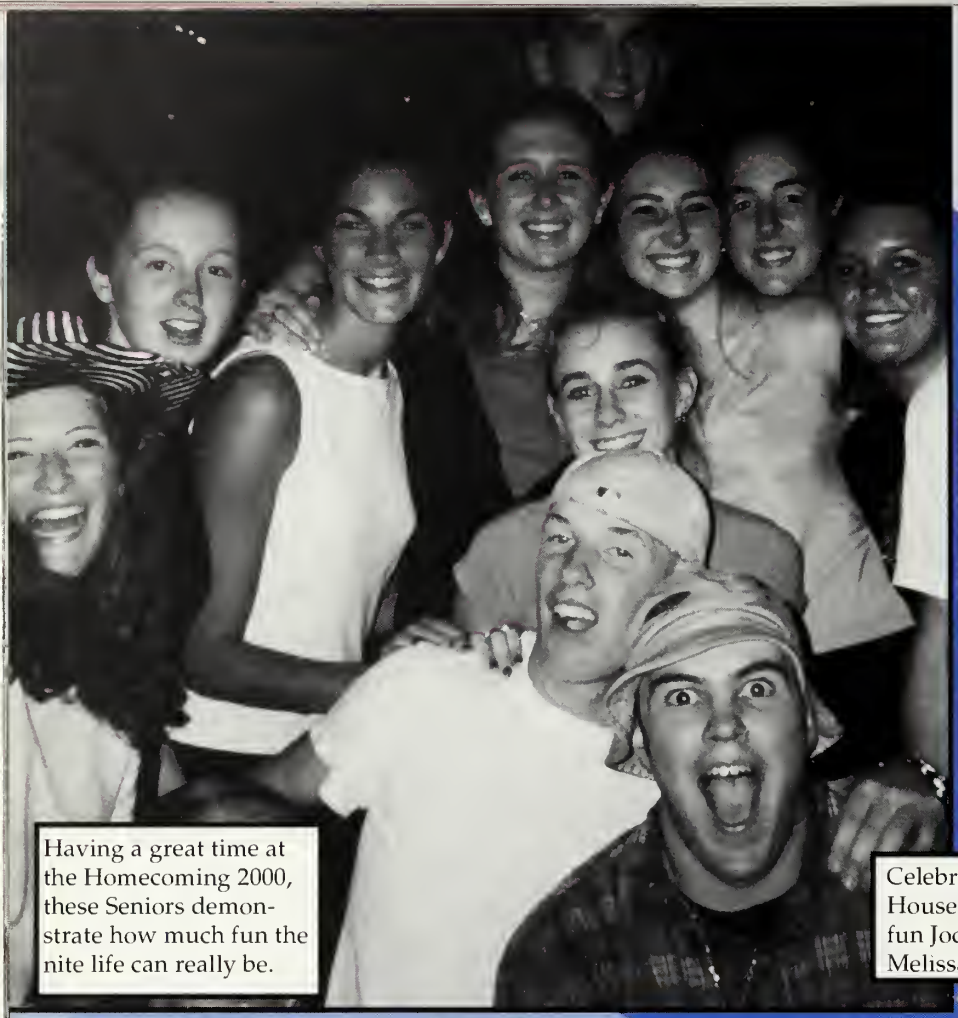
Remember the days when Skip-its were cool and Barbie and Ken were the ideal couple? Whether we were curled up with our Care Bear watching Punky Brewster, or playing our favorite Mario Bros. Game on our brand new Ninetendo, life was ever so simple. Now, as we've gotten older, our Friday nights are booked for hot dates and stressful jobs. Although times have changed, there will always be a special place in our hearts for the past.

Jennifer Howard and Patricia O'Donnell still enjoy hanging out at the beach.

Four years of high school sure haven't changed these friends, Andrew Jerome, Brian McLaughlin, and Michael DeLorey, much at all.

Left: Gabrielle Lozeau and Lori Coburn's ideas of "dressing up" have changed over the years.

Far Left: Kristen McGonagle and Theresa Bonatti switched from the balance beam at gymnastics class to the dance floor.



Having a great time at the Homecoming 2000, these Seniors demonstrate how much fun the nite life can really be.

The nite life will always provide the class with something to talk about Monday morning! These times will be the most memorable parts of high school. What makes them so special is just being able to enjoy the moments, not knowing what the future holds.

Andrew Jerome and Brian McLaughlin spend their summer at Cape Cod. These two sea men prepare to ship out on the Cape Cod Canal.

Kathleen McAvoy, Margaret Lane, and Suzanne McKay all take a few minutes to stop dancing and pose at the Britney Spears Concert.

rolyn Cox and Melanie Currie are Nantasket Beach over the summer. ese girls have two things on their nds: fun and sun.

Summer is a time when students are free of homework, free of waking up early, and free of all school related responsibilities. They are able to stay out later, go more places, and have less worries. It is a time when they have as much fun as possible. This is the last summer that seniors don't have to worry about preparation for their life after high school. This summer was filled with fun in the sun and great times all around. The summer of 2000 was definitely a summer to talk about.

At the Junior Prom, Elizabeth Salamone and Cortney Kelly pause from dancing to show their pearly whites.

Kelly Molloy, Erin Finocchi, and Kristin Marcucella swing on the swingset at the town park while reminiscing about their childhoods.

Caught in the act... whether serious, silly, expected or unexpected... seniors are always doing something to talk about. The Class of 2001 is more than energetic. Luckily, there's usually someone around with a camera for these unforgettable moments. Seniors are always on the go. They find the fun, wherever it may be. Or, perhaps seniors ARE the fun. Skip, hop, jump... you can always find a senior willing to strike a pose... or one who is unaware but caught in the act, doing something to talk about. Luckily, we can look back at these moments as if they were happening in front of us.

best friends

Forget our quarrels, forget our misunderstandings. Our friendships depend on our love and our trust.

Kristin Marcucella and Carolyn Manganello have been friends throughout high school. They've always managed to find fun, and they predict that their friendship will last many years.

"Dave (Craven) and I,(Joshua Kameese) have been best friends since Kindergarten. We live practically next door to one another."

" These six girls are like a second family to me. We have been through so much together and no matter what has happened in the past, we have always managed to get through it. I love you all and thank you for everything." Kristen Crowley on her friendships with Nicole Racicot, Christina Malone, Lauren Oberg, Amy Quilitzch, Rita Azevedo and Shannon Lewis.

"Adam and I have become real good friends throughout high school. We've been through a lot and have had some great times together." Brian McLaughlin about his best friend Adam Crosscup.

Regarding the friendship of Erin Biggins and Jill Hayes, Erin says, " Jill and I have been friends since we met Freshman Year. We've been through a lot and get along better than anyone I know, because we're so much alike. I know we will be friends for life."

Melissa Demichele and Rebecca Ritchie ave been best friends for the past hree years. They've been through a ot together and will be friends for nany years to come.

"What you are to me" by Shannon Maloney

You are my Angel from above. God sent you because I needed you through my highest high and my lowest low. You comfort me when I shed tears, you help me to get over my biggest fears. You look at me and see the good things, and when something bad happens you spread your wings. You save me from those who make me feel bad, you save me from those who make me feel sad. You know things about me that no one else knows; you guide me in the direction that I should go. I am able to put all of my trust into you. I don't know what I would do without you by my side; you have taught me that it is necessary in life to have pride. You always know what to say when I am feeling blue.
You have made me so happy just by being you...

Physical Prowess isn't just athletic strength; it can also be of the intellectual type ... beating the odds stacked against the person... strength of mind. It also signifies the success a person has had over his high school career. Physical prowess is dedication to becoming fitter and stronger before and after school hours. Working hard is a way of life for this select group of people. So whether W-H students have eaten their Wheaties before coming to school, worked out at the gym after school, or kept a strong mind ... they have worked on their physical prowess.

So much to talk about! The Seniors of Whitman-Hanson have so much to talk about. We are tomorrow; we are the future; we are the start of a new millennium; we are coming on strong. Throughout high school, we've overcome obstacles and celebrated triumphs as one. Now, as our time together comes to an end, remember those special moments, cherish the memories we have made, and hold them with you forever. Make the most of yourself; be your best; and remember ... so you'll always have something to talk about.

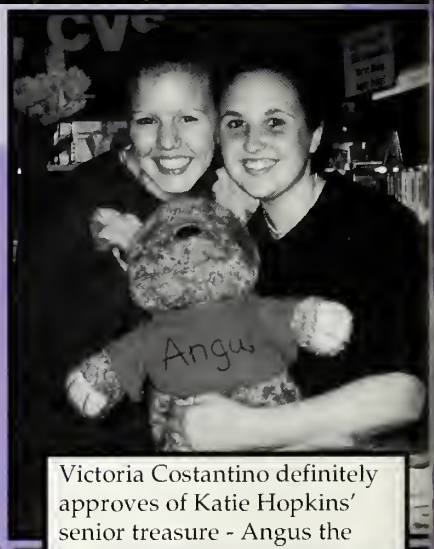
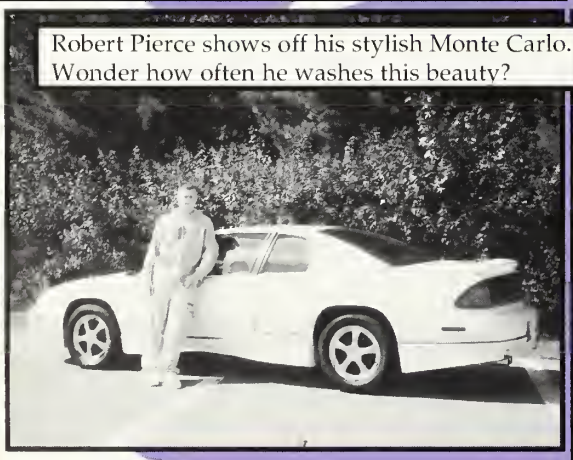
Remember when we couldn't put that five year old blankie down? We couldn't go anywhere without it? Remember Barbie, G.I. Joe, Glowworm and Hotwheels? Well, now they're all packed away and covered in dust. We have college ahead, a car, bills to pay, a job, and it's hard enough carrying our head around let alone our blankie. But, from old to new, there will always be something we possess that we will treasure for years to come.



Victoria Costantino definitely approves of Katie Hopkins' senior treasure - Angus the bear.



Robert Pierce shows off his stylish Monte Carlo. Wonder how often he washes this beauty?

Christina Nelson is very proud of the fact that she can now drive standard. She certainly has a treasure ... her Civic.

Deanna Briscoe and Robert Conners

Superlative - to be of the highest order, quality, or degree in a particular subject. Superlatives are a fun time for all; there is a category for everyone; superlatives cover various groups of students. Superlatives are a way for seniors to show their appreciation to their fellow classmates. Superlatives are looked at as a positive memory which will stay with the winners for a lifetime. One element that makes superlatives so special is that they are voted on by the entire graduating class and that class only.

Jennifer Howard shows her enthusiasm and gives four thumbs up.

Whether it was doing something exciting, or just hanging out at a friend's, the students of Whitman-Hanson have more than a few stories of their high school years. The times often flew by leaving only memories to reflect back and to smile upon. Together, we laughed and cried, but we will always remember our days together. As the Class of 2001, these moments have brought us together and will keep us together forever.

Megan Connolly and Amy Edwards enjoy St. Patrick's Day 2000, in Mr Stifler's A.P. U.S. History Class.

Patricia O'Donnell, Marika Beaton, Kaitlin Donovan, Theresa Bonatti, and Mary Powers enjoy the snow day by hanging out at Patricia's house.

remember those moments

What do we want to do? Reminisce!
When do we want to do it? Now!

Matthew Gedney tries to stay on task while the rest of his class laughs at his attire.

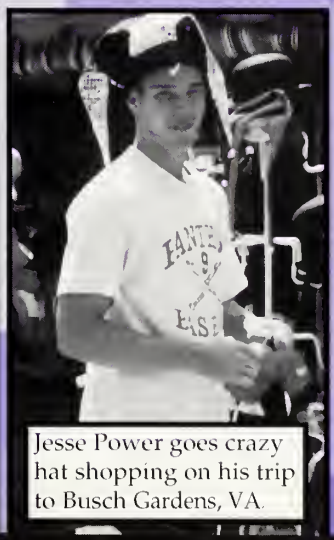
Remember all those...

Good Times!

The moments we had together will remain with us forever.

Shauna McLaughlin and Erin Tyrrell enjoy a day in the sun the summer before Sophomore Year.

Meagan Doliber and Melissa Welsh kiss their date, and long time friend Peggy Sue, at the 2000 Junior Prom.



Jesse Power goes crazy hat shopping on his trip to Busch Gardens, VA.

What do we want? Glamour!
When do we want it? Now!

fashion

Oh, naughty! Matthew Abel, sporting a lovely blue overgarment, stops making breakfast to show us his sexy legs.

Everyone's done it! Candace Cox, Lori Calnan, Courtney Kelly, Maria Lascolo, Keri Calnan, Barbara Cichocki, Melissa Ford, and Hope Bickel break all the rules in the student handbook to bare their midriffs.

A Fashion Frenzy...

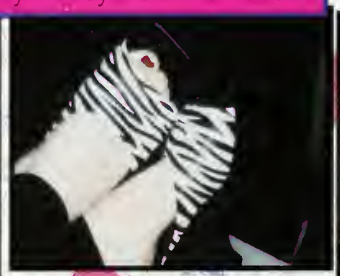
Express Yourself!

Lights, Camera, Action!
The students at Whitman-Hanson are into fashion!

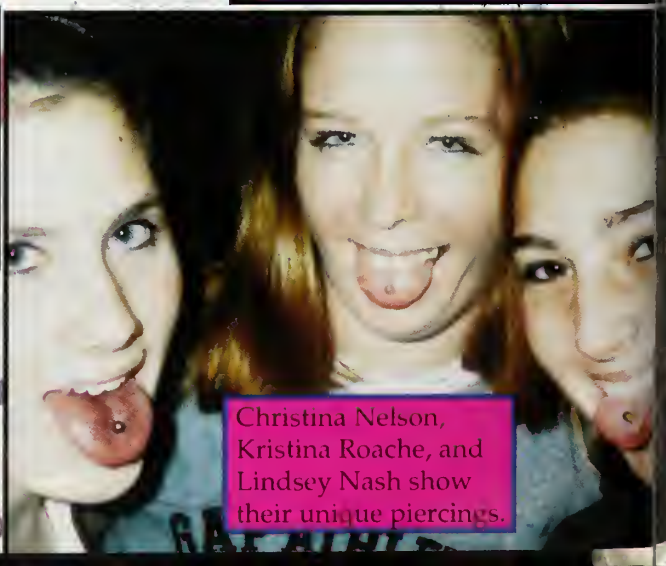
Shanna McLaughlin and Erin Tyrrell turn their backs to the camera, but not to fashion.

Getting right to the point, Lindsay Kelliher shows us her new and fashionable 'do.

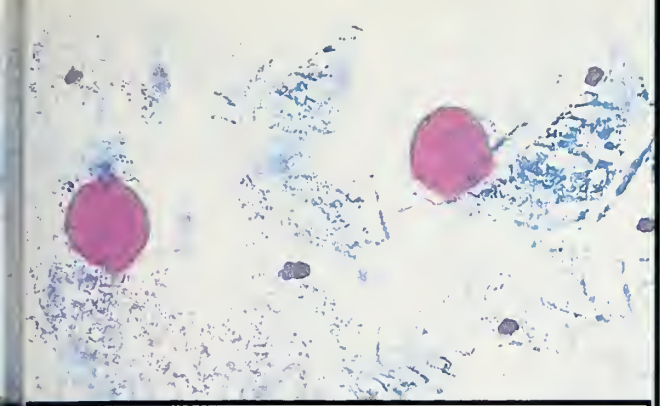
Comfort is a small price to pay when it comes to beauty, as Kelly Molloy kicks back to relax.

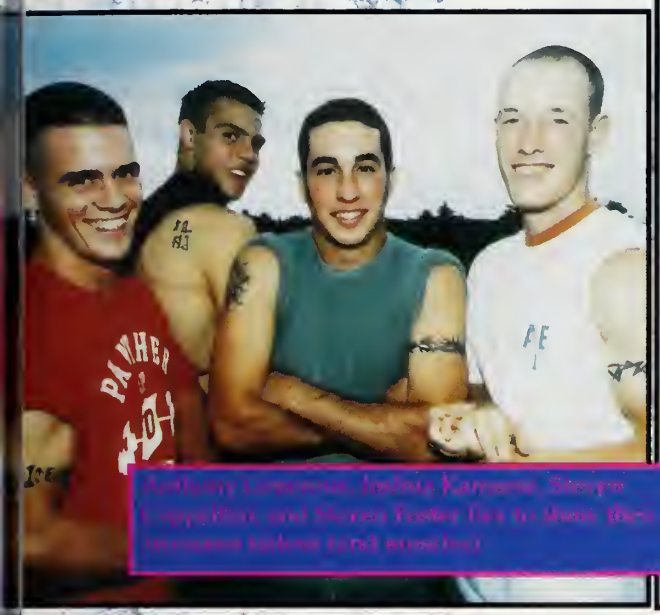


Steven Moore comes back to [illegible] showing off his true colors.



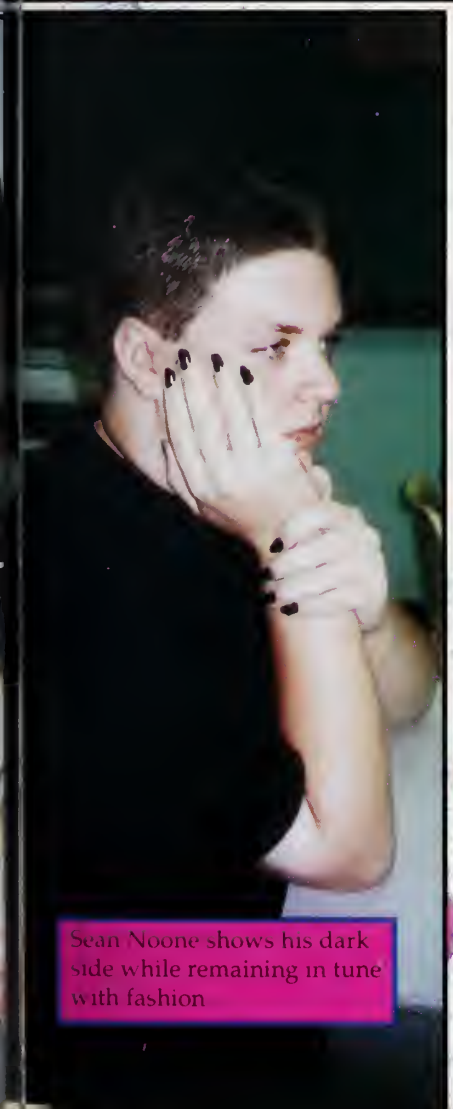
Christina Nelson, Kristina Roache, and Lindsey Nash show their unique piercings.





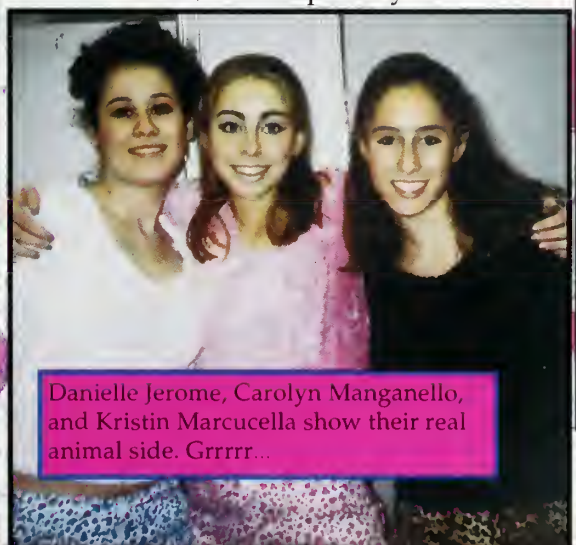
[illegible]

Kathryn Hopkins and Patricia O'Donnell give their hair to the mercy of Jennifer Howard's styling techniques.



Sean Noone shows his dark side while remaining in tune with fashion

Here we are, the class of the new millennium, the Class of 2001, and how do we approach the future? In STYLE! The Seniors of Whitman-Hanson know what's "hot" and what's "not", and they flaunt it too! Whether in school, hanging around town, or partying all night long, we've got and we wear all the fresh, hot, and latest trends to keep up with the ever so changing world. If it's cool, it's in this school. So flaunt it, strut your stuff, get up on that catwalk, and express yourself!



Danielle Jerome, Carolyn Manganello, and Kristin Marcucella show their real animal side. Grrrrr...

Marie Lincoln is all dolled up from head to toe, ready for a glamorous day in school.

2001

A professional senior portrait: Holly Setterland and Diana Angelini share a memorable moment celebrating their friendship as seniors.

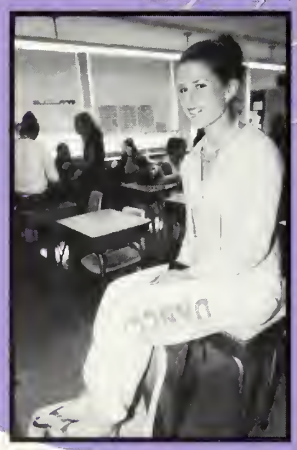
A casual portrait: Seniors show their communication skills by telling each other when and how to balance on each other's muscles.

The super seniors... soon to be gleeful graduates... have won the affection of the faculty and underclassmen.

... faces to brag about

An affectionate portrait: Lisa Berry is admired by her boyfriend Anthony Generous

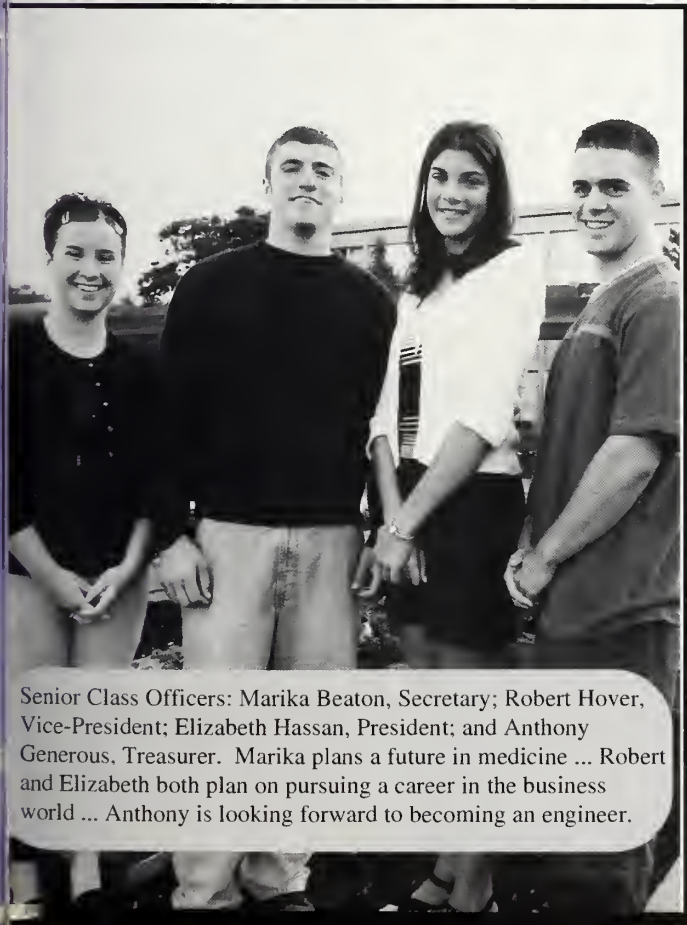
In the past four years, they have earned our respect, captured our attention, and won our hearts.



A fashion portrait: Barbara Cichocki, a well-known senior, decided to set a new fashion by wearing sweat pants to school. Maybe the trend will catch on!

senior portraits

W-H Seniors, on a glorious fall day, take a breather from the heavy load of work to be done. They reflect upon when they were freshmen and their many memories to talk about.



Senior Class Officers: Marika Beaton, Secretary; Robert Hover, Vice-President; Elizabeth Hassan, President; and Anthony Generous, Treasurer. Marika plans a future in medicine ... Robert and Elizabeth both plan on pursuing a career in the business world ... Anthony is looking forward to becoming an engineer.

These senior boys take pride in their wheels! Where might they be going? A football game, a dance, or are they just showing off to impress the ladies?

Brand new teachers,
Brand new school,
Block scheduling had started,
But where was the pool?

Who was from which town
We barely even knew.
As we mixed our classes
One name came from two.

Big, bad freshmen,
We thought we were awesome.
Our Tuesday nights revolved around
Joey, Jen, Pacey and Dawson.

Without our own cars
We blazed a new trail
Of adventures in Boston
Via the commuter rail.

Clad in pink for the rally
We cheered and sang songs.
We were a little embarrassed
When we spelled "freshman" wrong.

Mentos and gum from DECA,
Otises at lunch,
We were in awe of our new dining freedom
And enjoyed turkey slop a bunch.

With bodies sprawled across the gym floor
The lock-in was a sight.
Basketballs bounced and music played;
No one slept all night.

We managed to succeed.
Only three years left;
Our aspirations were high
Freshman year had flown by.

Sophomore Year

Lisa, Cortney, Joyce and Marika
Leaders for our Sophomore year,
Planning and collecting,
Our time to struggle is here.

On rally days we yearned to wear black
To be seniors, rule the school,
But at least we were no longer pink;
We wore white and pretended to be cool.

Panther pride brought out our best
As fall sports set the pace.
Cheerleading, Basketball, and Track followed,
ACL titles were all over the place.

Everyone asked "Why?"
When our carefree world was shaken.
The tragedy of Columbine,
And Amy's life was taken.

Jello Wrestling was a first.
Messy, cold and definitely wet.
With Moriarty and Rozen in spandex,
It was a fundraiser we'll never forget.

Spring time rolled around;
State laws forced us to test.
Free food and no classes
Were bribes to do our best.

No proms, no semis,
No cars, no fun.
Invisible to all,
We were considered no one.

We all have matured
As the year has passed.
No longer in the shadows
We'll be upperclassmen at last!

Junior Year

We learned to drive and took the test,
But before the right was deemed,
We had to wait for six whole months,
And for this our parents beamed.

The day had come to dance and party,
The first big chance to bring a date.
Dressed so nicely we posed with friends
And the semi we did celebrate.

The Thanksgiving Day spirit had begun.
These weeks would leave us no time to dally.
Not only did the junior girls find victory,
But we could finally see the rally!

Three zeros would the new year contain;
Y2K was supposed to be big.
Some said it would end the world,
But nothing happened, Go fig'.

With gold and silver in our eyes
And on that morning's dawn,
We ate cream-filled donuts
And put our class rings on.

For free music napster was the place,
Though Metallica complained "No way!"
We downloaded different MP3's;
It was illegal, yet we did it anyway.

The moment had arrived.
We dressed our best.
We traveled to the club
And we danced without rest.

It was time to say goodbye
To Mr. Horkey and Mr. Cole,
Two teachers who taught us well;
Each played an important role.

As Junior Year came to a close
We looked forward to ruling the school.
We would soon be seniors,
No longer having to pretend to be cool.

an unforgettable senior year ...

Senior Year

Senior year was started with
Liz opening the door.
We'd rather have her as president
Than George Bush or Al Gore.

We entered senior year
With so much to do.
Applications and SAT's;
Our stress level grew.

But we forgot all our troubles
Every Friday night,
And the Victory at Marshfield
Led to a great Super Bowl fight.

As a new WH tradition,
Homecoming was a blast.
Victory for our Panthers
This event is here to last.

As seniors we were ready
All decked out in black.
They tried to change the rally,
But we refused to step back.

Thank you for the many years of teaching,
Twohig, Valla, Kaval, and Meiggs.
You are finally ready to retire;
Kick back and put up your legs.

Finally, we danced together
In our finest suits and gowns,
A night to always remember
And wear our smiles not our frowns.

The clicking sounds of cameras,
We stood together as a class.
Diplomas, gowns, and tassels;
Graduation had come at last!

Although the sun has set
On our high school career,
A new day begins
Our future is here.

an unforgettable person

Right: At the eighth grade Recreational Dance, Amy Patturelli's close friends share a spectacular night with her.

Above: Amy and Michelle Skidmore were best friends for 6 years; Michelle will never forget the imprint Amy left on her heart.

Amy Elizabeth Patturelli

September 19, 1982 - February 22, 1999

May you always walk in sunshine
And God's love around you flow,
For the happiness you gave us,
No one will ever know.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone
A part of us went with you
The day God called you home.
A million times we needed you,
A million times we cried,
If love could only have saved you
You never would have died.
-Anonymous

Far Left: The eighth grade Washington D.C. trip was filled with fun memories of Amy and her friends that will never be forgotten.

Left: Amy's long, black, shiny hair is something no one can ever forget about her.

I AM

I am a girl who loves to draw and create things.
I wonder what will happen to me when I grow up.
I hear happy voices.
I see people having fun.
I want to sail the ocean.
I am a girl who loves to draw and create things.

I pretend to be a movie star when I am in a play.
I feel happy about my birthday.
I touch the hearts of all.
I worry about my family.
I cry when I think of the poor and hungry people.
I am a girl who loves to draw and create things.

I understand I can't have everything.
I say the world can get better if we all help.
I dream of being famous.
I try to get good grades.
I hope I'll stay friends with Michelle.
I am a girl who loves to draw and create things.

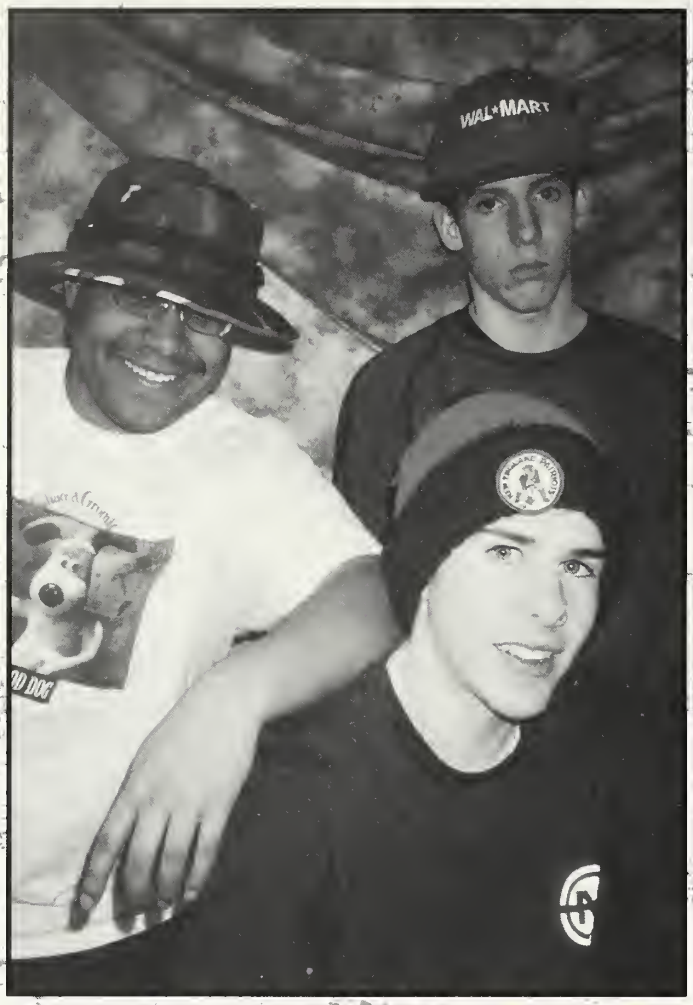
Whitman-Hanson HaTS March 1, 2001



Above: Wow! They are all wearing hats! Junior, Patrick Casey, is wearing his old school New England Patriots hat because he idolizes Andre Tippett. Junior, Jonathan Spear, is wearing his Army hat, which was given to him after the Gulf War. Senior, David Craven, is wearing his Wal*Mart hat, which was given to him by his Sophomore brother, Michael, for Christmas in '99.

Above: HATS AT THE BEACH!! Suzanne McKay and Kathleen McAvoy relax on one of those lazy days of summer! They are sporting fashionable summer hats! Suzanne is wearing her bucket hat, and Kathleen is wearing her Adidas visor. Also, they have their trusty radio, so they can jam to some tunes.

Above: MORE HATS AT THE BEACH!! Do these hats look familiar? Sean Driscoll and Nathan Dineen sit at the beach with the same hats as Suzanne McKay and Kathleen McAvoy; is that weird or what? Even though they share their hats, they don't share their sodas.

Above: Erin Tyrrell, Erin Biggins, and Hope Bickel show much love for all of the different seasons; while waiting for them to come, they enjoy a delicious treat from DECA.

Above: Erin Tyrrell is caught by surprise in the middle of class, hoping that summer will come sooner if she puts on her favorite summer hat.

Above: "Cool Seniors", Nathan Dineen, Lori Coburn, and Sean Driscoll, lean on a bookcase, cramped in the library, while reading their favorite books and wearing their favorite hats that they will wear at the beach during the summer. Wait one minute! The hat that Sean is wearing doesn't give very much protection from the sun's UV rays!

Below: This "So Tough Senior" Stacy Russo just wanted to show off her winter hat, when she dove into the snow with her clothes on during school hours to make a snow angel ... that she is.

Above: Mrs. Bergquist has another fun day working on the 2001 Yearbook. During her free time, she dons the hat of one of her idols, Elton John, and sits at the piano, wishing that she could play a number or two just the way he does.

Far Right: "Row, row, row your boat ... Oh! Wait! Wrong place; we're in school!!" Freshmen, Kelly Petersen and Meagan Warsheski, mistake their place; they thought they were in the navy!

Right: The hats say it all! Ellen Henshaw, Lindsay Andrews, and Daniel Hopkins have a great sense of humor!

Far Right: Timothy McGonagle, John Miley, and Kevin Libby are desperately hunting for girlfriends, hoping to catch their eyes while wearing their new hats. Any takers? Call, 294-...

Left: With low rations, no water, and a long trail across a treacherous island, three brave survivalists, Travis Tindall, Gwen Tindall, and Joanna Trefry use their last ounces of strength to find more food.

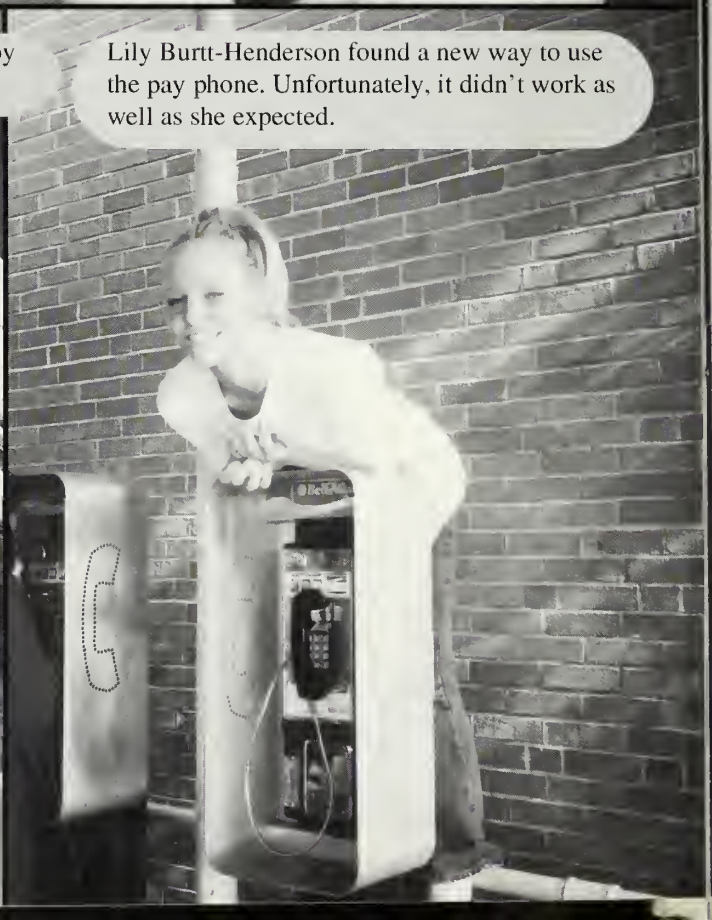
underclassmen

Junior, Joanna Trefry, intended on spending only a few minutes in the copy room, but she soon found herself strangely attracted to the photocopier.

Lily Burtt-Henderson found a new way to use the pay phone. Unfortunately, it didn't work as well as she expected.



Standing with the W-H Panther is a privilege and an honor. Freshmen, Alicia Winders and Kathleen MacCurtain, have made a new friend with the Panther.

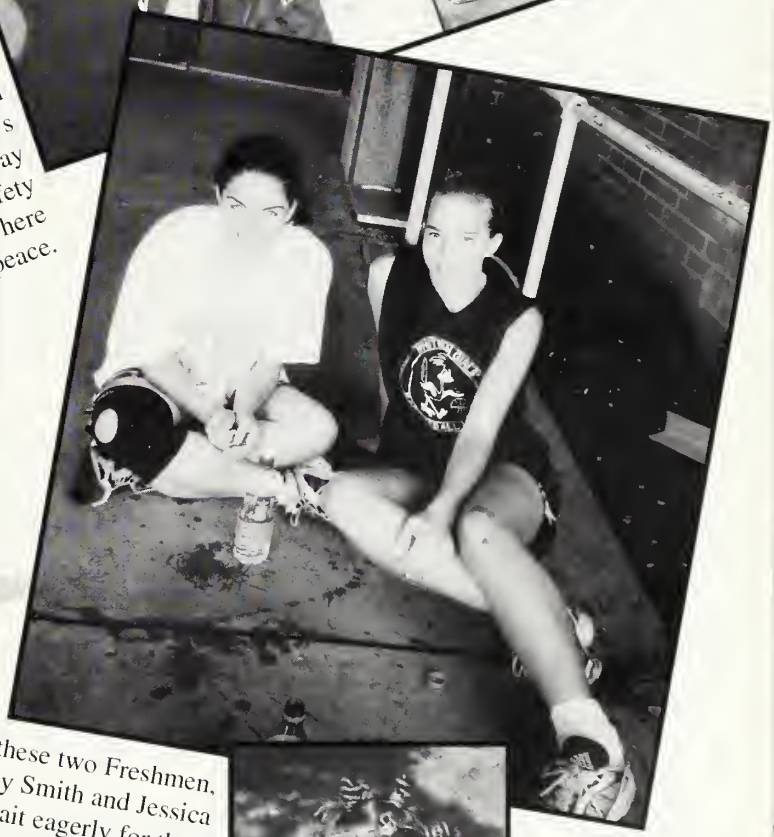
2001

Freshmen don't have licenses; sophomores don't have cars; juniors don't have parking spaces ... none of the underclassmen have senior privileges.

... underlings to gossip about

But, they all hope that one day they will be able to exchange their seats on the "loser cruiser" for their very own car.

These Freshmen, Amanda Clark and Alayna Madden, are up so early on a rainy morning that darkness still prevails. On this particular day, students around the world gathered at their school's flagpole to pray for safety everywhere and world peace.



As these two Freshmen, Lindsay Smith and Jessica Rogers, wait eagerly for their ride, they decide to make water designs with their Poland Springs water bottle.

something to talk about from last year...

Spring time brings different activities to W-H... Spring time 2000 brought not only St. Patrick's Day and Jello Wrestling, but also Shadowing Day. Organized by Mrs. Georgia Clancy as part of the School to Career Initiative, W-H students shadow business people in and around the workplace.

(Right:) Amber D'Angelo, J.P. Malloy, and Matthew Woods were assigned to shadow State Representative from Whitman, Kathleen Teahan. They toured the State House and then listened to Rep. Teahan's plans to help her district improve during the next four years.

(Far Right:) W-H students, Megan Downer (computer specialist), Amy Jarusevicius (teacher at Holt Elementary School), Stephanie Howard (physical therapist), Kaylan Hurley (teacher at Honey Tree Learning Center), and Kaitlyn Oberle (Hanson Firefighter), experience many career paths. After Shadowing Day experiences concluded, students convened at Cataldi's restaurant for lunch.

Above: From the paw prints on her rosy cheeks to the gleaming ribbons dangling from the back of her head, Ashlie Machado certainly has a lot of school spirit. Ashlie created this look for W-H's Black and Red Spirit Day.

Sophomore Class Officers: Tiffany Puliafico, Treasurer; Matthew Vincent, Vice-President; Russell Young, President; Matthew Pennie, Secretary.

Above: Nicole Dauksevicz and Kathleen Keeman know the meaning of "matching outfit", as they combine to make Panther colors.

Jessica Compston and Elizabeth Peterson, with their twisty corn rows and snake-like spirals, have come from the same hairdresser ... creative Kristen Peterson ... Elizabeth's very own sister.

Is that James Washburn serenading Kathleen Marecki at the Homecoming Dance?

Entertainment 2001: All know of the touching story of the Grinch. The Grinch who stole Christmas became such a smash hit that it created its own merchandise. Lorna Migre holds a keychain of the Grinch and his escape mobile.

Left: The Sophomore Science Challenge ... Every year, the Sophomore Class is faced with a new Science Challenge. This year, the challenge was to send a Pringle chip through the mail to Whitman-Hanson ... in perfect condition ... in a unique package with the lowest weight. The student who accomplished this task and won the Science Challenge was James Washburn; his package weight was 7.5 grams. Second place went to Michael Naughton; third place went to David Lynam.

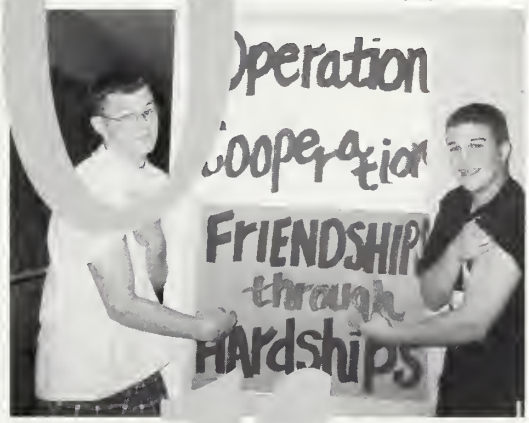
sophomores...work and play...class of 2003

something to talk about from last year ... The Student Council held a lock-in for the Whitman Middle School Students. The lock-in demonstrated to the eighth graders how to properly run a Student Council. Various workshops, including ones dealing with peer pressure and student leadership techniques, illustrated proper government styles. All in all, the lock-in was a great success!



Kevin Owen and Chris Bonzagni direct the way to two of the workshops: Operation Cooperation (a cooperative workshop) and Friendships through Hardships (a play about friendships).

Ashley Rice, Allison Spivack, Danielle Dolan, Lily Burtt-Henderson, Cynthia Okerfelt, and Heather Barends participate in a workshop called "Diversity is the Spice of Life" playing the "Ice Cream Game", a game designed to make students more aware of how society stereotypes social classes.

Above: Look how fabulous these girls, Cynthia Medico, Rachelle Barnes, Noele Huffman, and Kelsie McKenna, look at the Junior Prom; just think, they still have two more years to look forward to their own special night.

On a Spring 2000 Field Trip, the W-H Chorus took a trip to New York City for some sightseeing and a viewing of the play "Les Miserables". Kelly Stone and Erin Hearn (far left) partied the night away, while Jessica Compston, Nathan Garrett, and Allison Spivack (right) eagerly await the opening of the doors so they can get the best seats in the theatre.

Allison Finch and Jenna Walsh take Spirt Week into their own hands by coloring hair and curling ribbons. Allison even made her own Panther shirt for the occasion.

Amanda Clark and Alayna Madden demonstrate their dignified expression. They must have gotten into a fight with a panther because its pawprints are on these girls' faces.

Rose Billings has only wonderful things to say about her sister, Senior, Laura Billings. "I look up to my older sister in more than one way. Laura is an intelligent person who always strives to be a great person and student. Laura convinces me to be a better person and to try my best at things, for example ... running. 'I can't go on,' I would say. 'Just take another step' would be Laura's response. Laura always keeps me laughing when she's not being a big sister. I'll miss you, Laura, while you are at college. "I admire my sister Sara for many reasons. She has always been there for me whenever I needed someone to talk to. All her life she has achieved very high academics. This has set an example for me to follow and has pushed me to do well. Sara is also very athletic. She was a captain of the Girls Varsity Soccer Team. This has pushed me to do my best so that someday I might be a captain as she was. My sister has also participated in Spring and Winter Track since she was a freshman. I can remember Sara training with me in the off season to stay in shape. This could have been boring, but she always found a way to make it fun. Sara is the best sister I could ever ask for." Something to Talk About from Last Year ...

Summer at PCC (Project Contemporary Competitiveness) brings memories of great times to hundreds of students in the W-H area. W-H students participated in PCC at Bridgewater State College during the Summer of 2000. Special classes, special dances, special outfits, special field trips, special friends ... special times ... PCC a most wonderful combination of work and play ... indeed something to talk about!

Far Right: Emphasizing the tropical theme, Ashley Wall, Freshman, wears a garland presented by PCC proctors, and Katie Jordan, Sophomore, wears a child's floatie on her head.

John DeCoste and Ryan Armstrong were sent to ask if Clayton Farms would like to place an ad in the 2001 Whitman-Hanson Yearbook. Along the way they got lost and had to call for directions. Hey, there it is behind them! Do you think they know?

sponsors

Kerri Egan and Michelle DeLorey worked painstakingly to create and develop the Parent Congratulatory Messages and Advertising Sections of the 2001 Yearbook.

The Sponsor Section for the yearbook can get very challenging and demands serious concentration. It appears that Joanna Trefry and Erin Ross have had quite enough of James Washburn, Editor of the 2001 Yearbook, and his "sense of humor".

Deca - Whitman-Hanson's own home business is where a student's every need can be fulfilled. What's even better about Deca is that the students who work there love to help others.

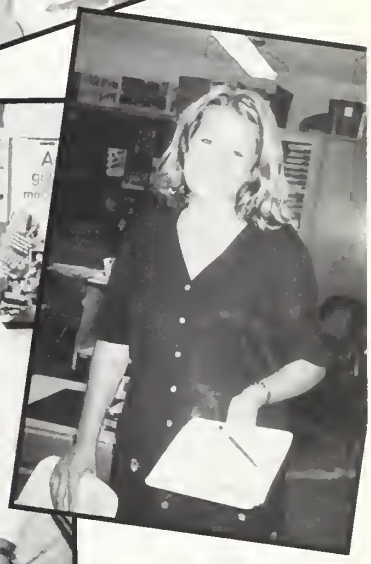
The booming businesses and the proud parents send mountains of money to help subsidize the W-H Yearbook.

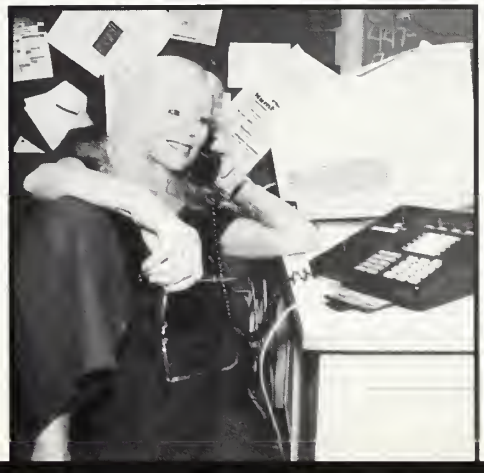
W-H students spend 'mucho' money at local businesses. Here, Jenna Pearson and Janel Cookson stop at a local store for some candy.

... supporters to cheer about



Producing the W-H 2001 Yearbook is Big Business. Mr. Christopher Spelman, Josten's New England Regional Manager, and Mrs. Tara Anderson, Josten's Local Rep to W-H, answered many questions and were ever so helpful in bringing the 2001 book to its completion.

The baby photos and the candids on these pages show W-H seniors from beauteous babies to sophisticated seniors.



Mrs. Marsha Bergquist, Yearbook Advisor, has something to talk about as she converses with parents and businesses regarding yearbook business.

Yearbook

Yearbook - a never ending challenge from beginning to end. There is never a dull moment; from creating design layouts to proofing pages with great carefulness. So much effort has gone into this year's yearbook, and we hope these finished pages will always be Something to Talk About. Remember, when looking at the yearbook, focus on the positive, because we have worked tirelessly to create a unique book just for the Class of 2001. Look for the memories you share with friends, because that is the true object of a yearbook - a book of the year. Underclassmen, you do not get as much coverage, but don't worry, one day you will be seniors and have your place in the spotlight. Yearbook is just like a sport, but it involves more of the mind than of the body (even though deadline time can get pretty crazy!). Mrs. Bergquist has been kind enough to teach me so much this year, and I'm looking forward to being Yearbook Editor next year. All of the yearbook staff, including myself, are proud of producing this year's yearbook. We hope you enjoy our masterpiece!

Hearts and Cupids, soap suds, towels, water, clean bodies, bathing caps, and a few robes. Students of Whitman-Hanson know how to clean up their acts and trust in their hearts to make the right choices throughout life. Choices aren't always easy to make. Some choices, such as what to do on a three-day snow vacation, are very easy. Other choices that concern the future require careful consideration and detailed deliberation. Whatever the future, let it be colorful and vivid as our paint people on page one, let it be determined by our hearts as with our classmates on this last page, and also let our future be determined by an ever growing wisdom which is - and will continue to be - Something to Talk About.

These W-H students clean up after a long day of classes. Patrick Casey, Lori Coburn, Bridget Anderson, Stacy Russo, Heather Lesogor, Kathleen McAvoy, Carolyn Cox, Erin Tyrrell, Suzanne McKay, Sean Driscoll, and Nathan Dineen show that the days at W-H are always Something to Talk About.

Thomas Bergeron was commended by W-H Principal, Robert Gay, for having received his Eagle Scout Award. Matthew Gilson and Matthew Piper, also commended, received their Eagle Scout Awards this year.

Sensational, a sea of red and black, the diplomas, the tassles, the robes, the music, the bubbles, the sunglasses, the graduates, the parents, the dignitaries. Who would imagine that graduation would come so quickly? The seniors arrived four years ago with a sense of wonder and excitement and leave today with knowledge, confidence, anticipation, memories, and pride. As the seniors move their tassels from right to left, signifying their graduation from high school, the ecstatic graduates have completed a major stage of their lives. These four years have definitely been Something To Talk About.

Voted by the Class of 2001 as the Most Outstanding Senior Boy and Girl(s) are: Marika Beaton, Anthony Generous, and Gabrielle Lozeau. They were presented with plaques at the annual Kiwanis Awards Banquet in June.

BASEBALL ... BASEBALL

The 2001 Varsity Baseball Team consists of five Seniors, eight Juniors, and two Sophomores. With that mixture of grade levels on the team, and with a 6-3 start, it looks almost impossible to miss the playoff tournament. Great play is going on with this team.

The Panther Team won the East Bridgewater tournament during April vacation again thanks to Mark Hutching's no-hitter championship game. The game versus East Bridgewater really brought the team together as a whole and the team has been playing good baseball ever since.

Whitman-Hanson Varsity Baseball also produced the team's first triple play ever, in a bases-loaded situation with Junior Joseph Coombs on the mound. It started with an infield fly and ended with a run-down out to third base.

The Panthers' toughest opponent of the year was Marshfield. The two teams played a tight game of 3-3 right into the seventh inning but ended with a late inning rally by W-H, which ended up winnig 6-4.

The team looks to capture the school's third ACL Championship under the guidance of Coach Patrick Forbes in his fifteen years of coaching here.

"My favorite part of the game is when the batter swings the bat and the home plate umpire doesn't know if the batter committed a full swing, and then I yell, 'YES HE WENT' !" - Coach Domingo Amado

SOFTBALL... SOFTBALL

Softball Captains: Jenni Brooks and Carly Muise, joined by Coach Sandra Lombardi.

The 2001 Whitman-Hanson Varsity Softball Team has come ready to play this season with 10 returning seniors. The seniors are backed up by 5 Juniors, 2 Sophomores, and 1 Freshman. Coach Sandra Lombardi is entering her 2nd season as the head softball coach at W-H with a strong team that has claimed the ACL championship in 1999 as well as 2000. Again, the Panthers will be competing for the ACL title, hoping to add another championship to their list of achievements. The team has a tough schedule, but 15 games into the 20 game season, the Panthers record is 11-4 overall and 10-1 in the league.

Captain, Carly Muise says, "The past 4 seasons have been terrific. I have been privileged to play alongside many wonderful individuals. This season has had its share of ups and downs, but through it all, the true character of the team emerged. And, for most of the team, that character is something we can all be proud of." Captain, Jenni Brooks says, "This season and all four years of softball have been amazing and unforgetable for me. I have been very lucky to be able to play with such talented and awesome people. We all work very hard to accomplish our goals. We, as a team, never give up. I will miss playing for W-H, but I will miss the friendships that I have made with my teammates the most. Good luck next year."

"When we play like a team we can achieve about anything."

The 2001 Whitman-Hanson Junior Varsity Softball Team has come into this season led by a first year coach, Elisa Brehaney. The JV Team is composed of 5 Juniors and 4 Sophomores who are returning players, and they are now joined by 10 Freshmen. These girls have gathered together to grow as a team and to help build the future of the W-H girls softball program. The JV Softball Team is presently 14 games into the season and undefeated in the league with an overall record of 13 wins and only 1 loss. With such strong Junior Varsity Team Members, the girls will hopefully fill the positions of all the graduating seniors and continue the winning tradition for the Whitman-Hanson Girls Softball Program next year.

Captain, Kaitlyn Oberle says, "This season has been very memorable and special to me because the team has truly united and become great friends. I dedicate a big part of our winning to Coach Brehaney because not only does she have great knowledge of the game but she is fun to play for. The girls on JV also motivate themselves by looking up to the seniors for inspiration. With a combination of good leadership and inspiration, we have managed to do our part to represent the future reputation of W-H softball.

"I am very proud of the JV girls; I know they will continue their success in seasons to come."

BOYS & GIRLS TRACK ...

Below: The Captains, Brian Cassidy, Timothy Rollins, Andrew Bethony, and Anthony Generous stand proud withCoaches Bob Ruel, Kevin Black, and Sean Clifford.

The 2001 Whitman-Hanson Boys Track Team continues to dominate the Atlantic Coast League as it has for more than a decade. The team went to many prestigious invitationals including the Haverill Invitational, Carver Freshman/Sophomore Meet, and the Andover Invitational. They also had a strong showing in the Class B Relays, finishing fourth out of more than 30 teams. At the relays there were strong showings both on the track and in the field. There were many point scoring teams and two meet champions, including the Distance Medley Team of Timothy Rollins, Ryan Hammond, Peter Smallcomb and Mark Hager, and the Javelin Relay Team of Brian Cassidy, Zachary Lipinski, and Michael Bearce. There was also a school record set at the relays by the Discus Relay Team of Sean Driscoll, Steven Cappellini, and Brian Cassidy.

The Boys Track Team's regular season consists of six league dual meets, comprised of sixteen events. To date, 20 team members have qualified for the State Championship Meet held in June at Andover High School. Also, to date, the team remains undefeated with a big showdown expected in the Dennis-Yarmouth competition. A win over Dennis-Yarmouth will seal the league championship for the thirteenth straight year and an undefeated season for the Whitman-Hanson Panthers. The Whitman-Hanson dynasty continues to dominate the Atlantic Coast League.

"The 2001 Spring Track season had many new records broken, some positive - others negative, but altogether the season was a good experience." - Coach Kevin Black

The Girls Spring Track Team has had a very successful season. The team earned a second place in the Class B relays. Under the leadership of their coaches, Mike Driscoll, Tom Murtagh, and Richard Blake, the girls have prevailed. The four Captains, Elizabeth Hassan, Sara Kut, Cortney Kelly, and Laura Billings, are a major asset to the team and have been part of the Track Team since their Freshman year. Each of the captains participates in many track and field events. Throughout the season, the undaunted female athletes have tirelessly attended practices all week and often during the weekend. Evidently, all the hard work of the coaches and athletes has paid off, since the Girl's Track Team has yet to be defeated.

The girls were victorious against the prestigious Girls Marshfield Rams. They defeated the Rams with a score of 79-52. During the Marshfield meet, many of the Panther Senior girls prevailed in their races. Kristen McGonagle, Lindsay Kelliher, Elizabeth Hassan, Cortney Kelly, Laura Billings, and the rest of the girls worked their hardest and in the end of the meet their hard work paid off. The girls remained undefeated with their only meet left being Dennis Yarmouth, which they need to beat to capture the ACL title again this year.

The girls were also victorious at the Andover Invitational; the girls put everything they had into getting a 1st place finish against many other teams. "There have been numerous school records set by this Senior Class during the past four years, some which we hope stand for many years," says Cortney Kelly. Kristen McGonagle set a school record in the 110 meter hurdles. Another record set was by the relay team of Kristen McGonagle, Sara Kut, Cortney Kelly and Elizabeth Hassan; they set a record of 51-6 in the four by one hundred race.

"The past four years have been outstanding, with a record of 24-0; our hard work definitely has paid off."

The Whitman-Hanson Girls Tennis Team has worked especially hard to improve its tennis skills. According to Coach Gerry Lapierre, "The strong senior leadership of Elizabeth Sanborn, Pamela Kreckler, Kaitlin Donovan, Kristina Roache, and Kathryn Hopkins has enabled the team's many young players to improve their skills, develop positive attitudes, and gain an understanding of tennis etiquette."

"The 2001 Girls Tennis Team members practice hard, play well, and have fun." -Tennis Coach, Mr. Gerry LaPierre

"The program continues to attract a large number of prospective tennis players. Girls tennis is a varsity sport, so most players begin their tennis career playing in the extra matches that follow the varsity matches. As their tennis skills improve, players begin to challenge for playing time in varsity matches. The combination of all these factors has lead to a successful season in 2001 and has set the foundation for future success."

Boys Tennis

In the 2001 Boys Tennis Season, the Boys Tennis Team did somthing that it had not done in the past three years. The highlight of their season came in the match against Abington. After forty matches, W-H finally won! The team defeated winless Abington with a final score of 4 - 1.

"The team's hard work and perserverance will eventually pay off."
- Ms. Sandra Allan

Whitman-Hanson won second and third singles, while Andrew Gunnison and Joshua Yeager took first doubles, and Senior Captains Bryan Smith and Mark Gredler took second doubles. The Boys Tennis Team traditionally plays against "water towns" ... towns which are near the water and have much more participation in sports such as tennis. In a 17 match season, the W-H team members work hard to improve their tennis ability.

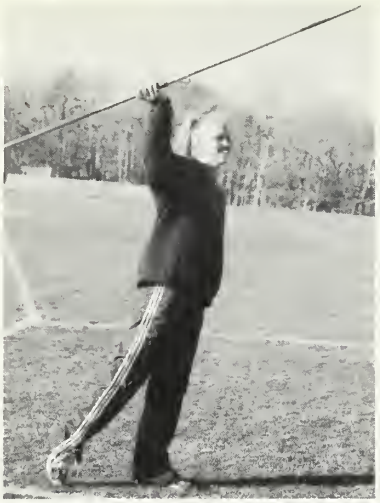
RISING STARS & GIRLS GOLF



Whitman-Hanson is widely known for the great ability of the athletes in their sports program. Many W-H teams have "rising stars", i.e., players who deserve recognition for their contributions. All of these underclassmen contribute to their teams greatly and are rising into sports stardom.

Coaches, always looking to build their teams, look forward to underclassmen participating and achieving status on upper level teams. For example, Varsity Head Coach, Sandra Lombardi, was very pleased to receive a new pitcher to her team, Kristen Delacampa. Kristen, who is only a Freshman, made the Varsity Team. "Kristen is an extremely talented and hardworking Softball Player. As a Freshman, Kristen personifies the true meaning of Sportmanship and commitment to a Varsity Sport."

Left: Kelsie McKenna is a Sophomore who has been on the W-H Girls Track Team since her Freshman Year. Just recently, she competed in the Andover Invitational where she threw the javelin a record 116 feet.

"The underclassmen are the future of the Whitman-Hanson sports teams. They have ability, enthusiasm, and the willingness to give it their all."

- Bob Bancroft, Whitman-Hanson Athletic Director

Far Left: Mark Hutchings' Junior Year consisted of stepping it up and becoming W-H's ace pitcher of the starting staff. His great pitching performances include a no-hitter (second in school history) during April Vacation. Mark swings good at bat, and he hits 5th in the batting order - usually driving in alot of runs.

Left: Kristen Delacampa is a Freshman who starts on the Varsity Softball Team. When she is not pitching, she plays right field. She bats 6th in the batting order. "She contributes greatly to our team", says Senior, Laura Rideout.

Left: Matthew Morganelli, a Junior, is on the W-H Boys Golf Team. Mr. Robert Belden, Boys Golf Coach says, "Matt is someone who will surprise us in the league this coming year. He is working extremely hard on improving his game."

Above: As a Freshman, Rose Billings is already competing with Varsity runners. She runs a great time in the 800 and is continually getting better. Rose is one of the long line of runners in the Billings Family, she follows in her older sister Laura's footsteps.

Below: Jared Mahoney is a Junior who plays 2nd single; he has played tennis since his Freshman Year. He started at first single because his fellow teammate was injured.

Below: "Michelle Rollins was a real leader thisyear as a Junior on the Girls Golf Team. Her success as the number three player helped to not only push the team to victory but also to show the other girls to have sportsmanship." Jill Hayes

Coach Scott Benton of the 2001 Whitman-Hanson Girls Golf Team says, "What may be lacking in record is more than made up for by effort and sportsmanship." The girls on the team possess a true talent for the game of golf which has improved significantly since the program started. This year, the team has had three wins - the most ever.

The girl's practice every single day at Ridder's Driving Range, when they don't have a match. They play their home matches at Strawberry Valley Golf Course.

The girls were successful this year, because, as Jill Hayes says, "We all bonded, had a great time, and we had a great coach!"

VARSITY GOLF: 1st Row: Coach Scott Benton, Kathryn McLean, Maribeth Powers, Stefanie Walsh, Jill Hayes, Meghan O'Connor, Michelle Rollins, Lisa Friedman.
